Disclaimer

The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada is the only national voluntary organization in Canada that supports both MS research and services for people with MS and their families. It is a major source of information about multiple sclerosis, which is based on professional advice, published experience and expert opinion but does not represent therapeutic recommendation or prescription. The opinions do not necessary represent the views of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada. For specific information and advice, please consult your personal physician.

The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada is an independent, voluntary health agency and does not approve, endorse or recommend any specific product or therapy but provides information to assist individuals in making their own decisions.

Any reference to a commercial or non-commercial product, process, service or company is not an endorsement or recommendation by the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada. The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada does not endorse or recommend products, services or manufacturers. The MS Society of Canada assumes no liability whatsoever for the use or contents of any product or service mentioned.
